

Marking a significant step towards the preservation and promotion of Indian Knowledge Traditions, the first lecture in collaboration with the Indian Knowledge Systems was successfully organised at Veer Madho Singh Bhandari Uttarakhand Technical University.

The session featured renowned novelist, poet and cultural activist Mr. Ashok Jamanani, who shared his insightful views on the rich heritage of Indian culture, literature and traditions, while encouraging students to integrate the Indian Knowledge System with modern education.

Hon'ble Vice Chancellor Dr. Tripta Thakur, in her welcome address, highlighted the vision and objectives behind the establishment of the Indian Knowledge Systems Centre and emphasized the importance of connecting students with Indian cultural values.

The programme witnessed active participation from faculty members and students of the university. At the conclusion of the lecture, Mr. Ashok Jamanani was honoured with a memento by the university.
